

For more than a splash of sparkle this Christmas and the ultimate stocking fillers... just think Nicholas James

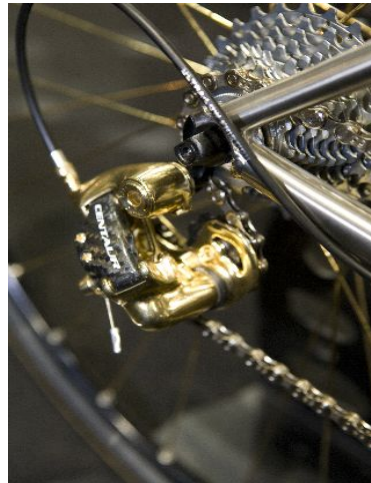

Award winning jeweller Nicholas James of Hatton Garden is the first port of call for anyone shopping for something extra special this Christmas. From sophisticated diamond solitaires to spectacular coloured stone cocktail rings, Nicholas James tantalizes with an exquisite range of jewellery.

'Independent Retailer of the Year', Nicholas James is renowned for championing modern jewellery design. Revered for his contemporary style and attention to detail Nicholas James' collection features exceptional diamond and platinum pieces that pioneer new styles and champion true craftsmanship.

Or if your beloved loves cycling then there's the ultimate stocking filler on display at Nicholas James' flagship showroom; a one-off showcase of British design, engineering and craftsmanship in the form of a customized titanium bicycle complete with diamonds and gold trim. If you'd like to order one for Christmas there's still time. These bespoke bikes take about 4 weeks to produce and start at £3,500 (the bike featured here is priced around £9,500). More traditional rings and necklaces start from £595!

So if 'sensational' and 'sparkling' are two words that feature on your Christmas list... you know where to go!
